Divorce rates are increasing in many countries, and the United States is no exception. The divorce rate in the United States has risen from 10% in 1967 to 54.8% in 2008. This is a significant increase, and it is likely to continue in the future. The reasons for this increase are complex, but they include changes in social norms, the availability of legal resources, and the economic challenges faced by many families. The divorce rate in the United States is one of the highest in the world, and it is a reflection of the changing nature of marriage in the 21st century.
